

A vibrant space scene featuring a green and blue nebula on the left, a bright star with a lens flare on the right, and the curved horizon of a planet with a blue atmosphere at the bottom.

The galaxy is a vast, varied and dangerous place. You are a small crew on a simple ship. War wages around you as the Free Alliance tries to survive the onslaught of the Victrix Kingdom. Gangsters and warlords prey on the weak factions and lone transports. And you have to find a job to pay off that engine upgrade you made last week...

This is a space opera roleplaying game. It aims to be enjoyable, open and simple. Make a few characters, outfit a ship, and get flying!
